Can you fill in the missing parts?

Hint: make this drummer smile!

Phil's Influence

One of Phil's earliest influences was Ringo Starr and the Beatles. When asked about specifics, Phil regularly singles out this Beatles song for its original drum fills. Using the drum kit parts below, can you 'pick' this influential track?

Phil's Gear

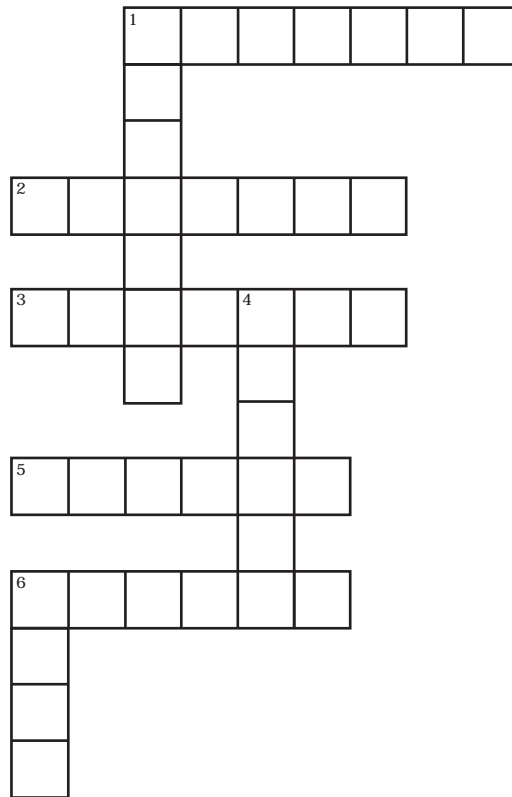

Phil uses and endorses all types of gear. Can you name some of his favorites?

ACROSS

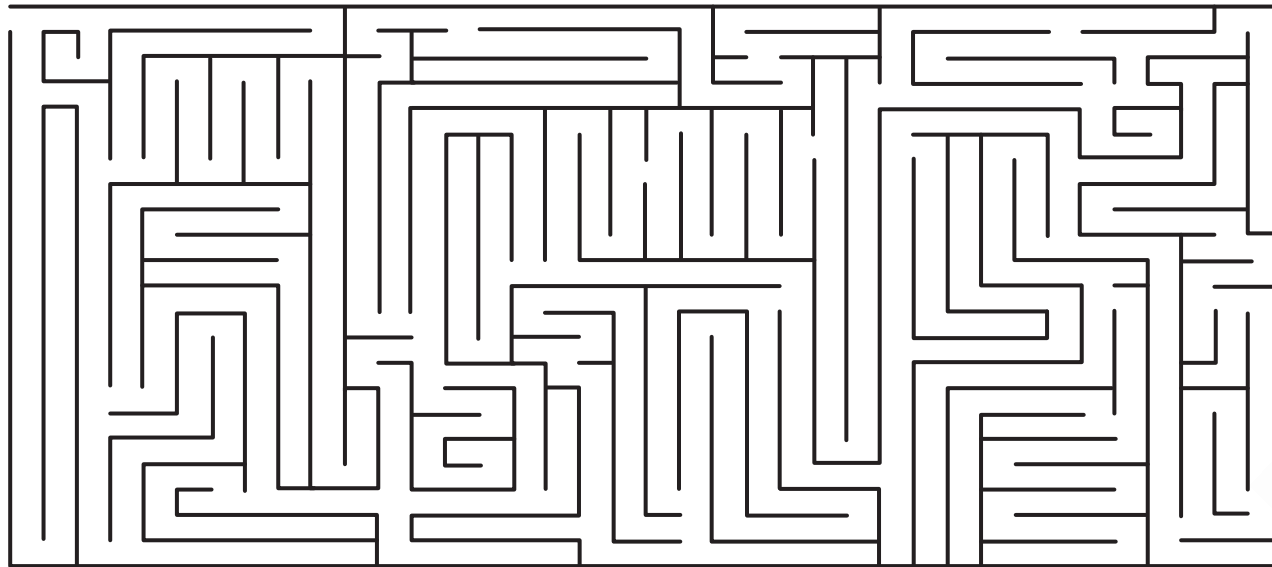

1. Phil likes their signature series 3As. They are short and beefy and made of Hickory.
2. Their model SD5 was featured on the Genesis album, notably on Second Home By The Sea.
3. Phil has endorsed these drums for years.
5. Their Speed King pedal keeps Phil's left foot busy.
6. The trade-mark pattern from 'that song' was programmed on their first generation drum machine.

DOWN

1. Phil likes their tambourine. He also used their drums during Genesis' 1978 World Tour.
4. Their 22" Chinese with rivets is one of Phil's favorites.
6. Being the democratic type, Phil uses both their Ambassdor and Diplomat types on his drums.

Help Phil find his Noble & Cooley Classic SS snare drum featuring a solid maple steam bent 1/4" shell, modally mounted low-mass tubular brass lugs and lacquer coated cast rims and strainers.

Phil's Bands

Phil has played drums with several bands. Can you find these bands from the distant and not-so-distant past?

Phil's Woes

Phil's satin black Gretsch drum kit has six single headed concert toms: 8", 10", 12", 15", 16" and 18". Phil likes to use clear diplomat drum heads on the 8" and 10" toms while using clear ambassador drum heads on the 12", 15", 16", and 18" toms. During his current world tour, tragedy has struck -- all of his tom heads have been damaged during the move between tear-down in Tokyo and set-up in Kobe. Worse yet, none of the drum shop clerks in Japan speak any English, and Phil's Japanese couldn't get him raw fish. So Phil has rung-up some of his drumming mates to help him out, but he's not sure who has the right size diplomats and who has the right size ambassadors. Using the clues and the table at right, can you help Phil find the correct drummer to call for each drum head that he needs before he has to cancel the sound check?

For each true clue, place a circle in the square. For every false clue, place an X in the square. The first clue has been done as an example.

Steve has the 10" Diplomat.

Bill has one of the Ambassadors, but it is not 12" or 16".

Chester does not have an 8" or 16" drum head.

Billy has a 15" drum head.

Ringo does not have an 18" or 12".

Rickey has a Diplomat.
